Reading:

Zig Zag by Ellen Wittlinger

Zig Zag Assignment:

Robin feels totally unworthy of her rich, smart boyfriend, Chris. So, when her divorced mother starts dating and Chris goes off to Rome for summer school, the 17-year-old accepts an invitation to drive from Iowa to California with her newly widowed Aunt Dory and her cousins, Iris (13) and Marshall (10), taking a circuitous route to see the country. Cramped in a car with a family still grieving, Robin finds herself in the middle of every conceivable sibling and parental dispute. Marshall and Iris are nasty and unkind to each other as well as to their suffering mother and Robin. As every dysfunctional episode ensues, the teen finds that she has the ability to help them all, and with that discovery she finds a way to help herself. There is nothing new about a novel that uses the plot device of a journey as a rite of passage. Zigzag has that commonplace plot filled with plain, everyday people experiencing plain, ordinary problems. Yet all four of the extended family members on the trip move from self-doubt to self-knowledge, from chaos to order. With gentle wisdom and remarkably true characters, Wittlinger's writing conveys a fundamental truth: life is a non-linear journey that everyone takes and it is the simple choices that define a person.

Complete the following assignment for Zigzag:

1. Complete the following vocabulary and reading comprehension questions for each chapter. The vocabulary and answers to the questions should be typed using Times New Roman 12 point font.
2. After you have finished reading, write a personal essay in which you explore a time in your life where you were put into a somewhat uncomfortable position and had to make some difficult or hard decisions. Maybe it was a time where you were caught in the middle between two friends fighting and you worked, much like Robin, to bring peace. How did you know what to do? Could you sense yourself making more mature conversations or arguments? How did the experience make you feel? What was the end result? Did you come to any new conclusions about yourself and/or your life?

Your essay must be:

- ✓ 1 page typed
- ✓ 12 point Times New Roman
- ✓ Double-spaced
- ✓ One inch margins
- ✓ Header should be adjusted to the left and include, in this order:
  - Your Name
  - Date
  - Mrs. Vandergriff - 113
  - Zigzag Essay
- ✓ If longer than one page, please staple it in the top left-hand corner
- ✓ Please do not place it in plastic folders of any kind.
- ✓ It is due on the first day of school. We will use your summer reading assignments during the first few weeks of school during a book talk.
